

Checking Your Application Status
via BreEZe

California Board of Registered Nursing

- After submitting an application, you may check your current status from your online BreEZe account homepage by clicking on the “Details” button for your application under the “View Application Status” heading.
- Please consult our current Processing Times at <http://www.rn.ca.gov/times.shtml> for the dates in which we are currently processing applications before contacting the Board for details regarding your application status.

The screenshot displays the BreEZe account homepage with several sections. At the top right, a box labeled "License/Registration Information" contains the text "No License Information Available". Below this is the "Quick Start Menu" with the instruction: "To start, choose an option, and you will return to this Quick Start menu after you have finished." The main content is divided into two columns. The left column has three sections: "Applicant Activities" with options to manage applications for RN File #2167595 and #2167594; "Applications" with options to start a new application or take an exam; and "View Application Status" which is highlighted with a red box. Under "View Application Status", there are two application entries: "Board of Registered Nursing - Initial RN License by Exam" with a "Details" button, and "Board of Registered Nursing - 14 - RN Endorsement" with a "Details" button, both also highlighted with red boxes. The right column has "Additional Activities" with options for "Payment Receipts (2)", "Add Authorized Representative", and "License Notification Subscriptions", each with a "Select" button.

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION APPLIES TO EXAM APPLICATIONS ONLY

- Upon application approval, the name of your application will change from “RN Initial Exam Application” to “Initial RN License by Exam”, shown below.
- “Initial RN License by Exam” means that your exam application has been approved and you have been issued testing eligibility to take the NCLEX-RN. You now need to register with the testing vendor, Pearson VUE, who will issue your Authorization to Test (ATT) by e-mail.
- If you have submitted the application for an Interim Permit (IP), your IP will automatically be issued to you upon application approval (may take 24-48 hours) and you may verify your IP using our online verification system at <https://search.dca.ca.gov/>
- Good luck on your exam!

- Upon approval of your RN or Advanced Practice application, or passing of your NCLEX-RN exam (for exam applicants), your license information will be shown in the top right corner of your BreEZe profile home page, seen below. Your license information will also be viewable to the public on our online license verification system at <https://search.dca.ca.gov/>
- The “Manage your license information” menu allows you to submit a Change of Address application for your license, as well as other items.
- NOTE: The Board will no longer issue physical pocket cards upon initial licensure or renewal of an RN license and advanced practice certificates. License statuses can change at any time during a two-year renewal cycle. A license status can change from Active to Inactive, Inactive to Active, and can be disciplined which will change the license status. The most up to date information about licenses and certificates is available through our online search system. Changes made to a license status are immediately reflected on the BreEZe system. Employers can verify license status online 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Wall Certificates will continue to be issued to licensees, only at the time of initial licensure.
